Q: Mr. Oda! If Kalifa had mistakenly eaten the Ox-Ox Fruit, Giraffe Model, at the Tower of Law, what would she have looked like? --Shiranchon

A: Like this (→). I think this is good in its own way.

Q: This is my first letter to you! (in the form of a postcard) In chapter 468, during Hogback's flashback, is that teddy bear that Perona's holding actually Kumacy? What did you have to do to make him that huge? --Tonton

Q: I have a question about the awesomely adorable Perona of Thriller Bark! Around the time of the Skypiea arc, you had the title page story comic, Wapol's Omnivorous Rampage. Within that series, there was a toy hippo that was created at Wapol's Munch Munch factory. Does that have anything to do with Perona's underling, Hippo Gallant? Is Perona a fan of Wapol's toys? --Mitsuki

A: These are two very good questions. I'm glad to see that you noticed all of it. Seriously. First off, about the stuffed Kumacy animal, it's not that he grew or anything. One of Perona's pastimes was to have Hogback create zombies that look like her favorite stuffed animals. And it's entirely possible for her to have obtained the stuffed hippo from Wapol from somewhere and Hogback used it for the basis of a new zombie.
